

THE RUMFORD CITIZEN.

VOLUME II.—NUMBER 18.

RUMFORD FALLS, MAINE, NOVEMBER 14, 1907.

PRICE THREE CENTS.

AFTERNOON AND EVENING CONCERT, SATURDAY.

The E. K. Day Co. Anniversary Sale, Last Week.

The Biggest Sale in the History of the Company's Business.

The last three days of last week were notable ones in the history of the E. K. Day Company. The week was the beginning of the third year in their new store in the Stratglass building, and on the three last days occurred their second anniversary sale. The announcement of the great sale that was made in the CITIZEN brought many hundreds of people from the neighboring towns to visit the store, and added to the throngs of town people that were going and coming. It is safe to say that there never occurred a larger or more successful trade event in the history of the town.

Saturday the company engaged an orchestra of five pieces to furnish music, and concerts were given both afternoon and evening. Eight selections in the afternoon and nine in the evening were rendered. The growth of the business established here by Mr. Day thirteen years ago has more than paralleled the growth of the town.

Everett K. Day.

In 1904 the corporation, as at present existing, was organized and John B. Martin made president. Miss Jennie McGivney, formerly conducting a business of her own, joined forces with the new company, and was admitted to membership. When the Stratglass building was finished the firm moved into the store they now occupy which is, without exception, the best fitted and appointed store in the county, if not in the State.

John B. Martin, formerly assistant manager, is president of the corporation. Mr. Martin is a young man of good judgment and splendid ability, both as a manager and writer of advertisements. He came here from Bridgton in 1901. He was employed there in the same line of business.

Mr. Day, the treasurer, is a former Massachusetts man, but came to Maine and engaged in electrical work. He was located in Kennebec County, and superintended the building of the electric road from Gardar to Augusta. He is thoroughly conversant with the trade he is now in, and is one of the most expert buyers in New England. He looks after that part of the business altogether. He is an energetic, capable man whose public spirit has led him to be active in many movements for the benefit of the town.

Miss McGivney is a young woman of large business capacity and assists in all departments of the business, and does much to popularize the store.

There are about twenty clerks employed, and they are trained to do their work as skilled saleswomen.

The promptness of the service and seemingly inexhaustible stock of the store are features that make the store popular. A larger number of people visited the store, last week, than ever before in one week in the history of the business.

LABOR TROUBLES AT MADISON AND MILLINOCKET

Unchanged. A. F. of L. to Assist the Locked Out Men.

Local Trouble Threatened But Has Been Adjusted.

Information concerning the labor situation at Millinocket and Madison is not very satisfactory.

The latest news indicates that the American Federation of Labor will back up the locked out paper makers. That means, when the need arises, that engineers, firemen and machinists and other skilled and indispensable labor will be ordered to quit work.

The reports are that several of the men who were taken to Millinocket to supply the places of the locked out men, refused to go to work when they found out the true situation.

It appears that only one paper machine was running in the Millinocket mills Tuesday.

J. T. Carey, president of the I. B. of P. M. P. S. & P. M. W. sent a letter to the Waterville Sentinel last week in which he charges the Fitzgerald organization with entering into an alliance with the Great Northern Paper Co. The purpose being to disable the paper makers and promote interests of the P. S. & P. M. W. organization.

Mr. Carey says the lock out was a complete surprise and without cause. From his communication it would not appear that any new demands had been made upon the company. He refers to some matters that were left unsettled at a previous conference with the officials, by request of the Company.

There have been made public no statements by the Fitzgerald men, and as the local members of the organization are not posted or are unwilling to talk, the CITIZEN can not do more than repeat that the Fitzgerald men do not deny Carey's statement, and by a peculiar quality of silence seem to admit its truth.

Eugene Brann of Ellsworth, a union labor man of 20 years standing writes that he does not know what the cause of the trouble is in the present instance but claims that blaming "labor agitators" as does the Bangor Commercial is wrong, for he claims no labor representative ever makes any move without being so instructed by vote of the Union.

Mr. Brann says the G. N. P. Co. has always been considered a just corporation, and expresses a belief that the Company will do the right thing by the Union.

There was some possibility of labor troubles developing in one of the mills at Rumford Falls, and at one time last week matters were at an acute stage, but we are pleased to state that the trouble has been sensibly met and probably settled to the satisfaction of all concerned.

LATER

Just as we go to press the news comes that the paper makers have gone back by mutual arrangement with the Company on same schedule of wages.

The difficulty between the two unions is to be referred to the American Federation of Labor for settlement so state the dispatches.

PAID $100 AND THE COSTS OF COURT.

Fred and James Dixon of Waldo St. were in court Saturday charged by deputies Elliott and Poor with selling liquor. They made no defense and were fined $100, and costs and discharged. A quantity of beer was seized by the officers.

FESTIVAL CHORUS

Holds Annual Meeting—F. J. Rigby Chosen Director.

The annual business session of the Rumford Falls Choral Union was held Monday evening in the parlors of the Universalist church. The business session was presided over by Pres. Mixer. Secretary Walhoff gave a report of the work of the chorus during the past year, and Lewis Irish, as treasurer of the association, submitted a report of the financial standing. It was voted to extend a vote of thanks to Mrs. Smith, Miss Russell, Mr. Bussolari, the members of the orchestra, and others who so ably assisted the chorus in a recent concert. It was also voted to extend votes of thanks to Mr. C. A. Mixer for his services as director; to Mr. Cushman as accompanist, and to Mr. Nils Walhoff for his able assistance as secretary of the association and the untiring zeal which he has exercised in behalf of the chorus and its interests.

Officers were elected by ballot as follows: Charles A. Mixer for president, by a unanimous vote. Vice Presidents, Miss Russell and Mr. Lucas. Secretary, Norton Mixer. Treasurer, Miss Marguerite McKenzie. Librarian and Collector, Miss Grace Young. Mrs. Longley, Mrs. Walter Rolfe, Miss Eva Osgood and Miss Pettengill were chosen to serve with the officers as an Executive Committee. Prof. Frank J. Rigby was unanimously chosen as Director, and Mr. Cushman as Accompanist.

The night of meeting was changed from Monday to Wednesday evening. The next meeting will be held Wed. Nov. 20 in the parlors of the Universalist church.

Among the works to be studied during the coming year are Gounod's Galia and Verdi's Aida and Prof. Chapman's Miscellaneous Chorus book. Other work will be announced later.

The business session was followed by a social hour, to which a number of guests were invited. Dainty refreshments were served by the ladies.

THE STRATHGLASS TEAM LOST TO THE CLERKS MONDAY NIGHT.

The match game of bowls between the team supposed to be made up from men having offices or employment in the Stratglass building and the clerks from the stores and offices in town was played, Monday night. The game has been the cause of much brag and bluster on both sides and quite a crowd were interested spectators.

The Stratglass team's banner trailed in the dust, and the clerks' hoisted their flag high in the air. The Stratglass fellows scored big in the first string, but in the second Cutler and Gupitt took most disastrous tumbles, and the clerks recovered their lost ground and much more. Their opponents went after them with a vim in the third and nearly regained their lost lead, but the string was not quite long enough, and the boastful Stratglassites had to go down into their jeans, and dig up the price of a chicken supper that the clerks had ordered and expected to pay for. After the result was determined, and the astonished clerks found themselves the victors, a general handshaking occurred instead of a fist shaking as was freely predicted during the game. At 10 o'clock the two teams sat down to a splendid repast at Stoddard's and enjoyed themselves immensely.

The game will be played again, next Monday night for the same penalty for the losers.

OLD THINGS AND NEW.

A short time ago we published an account of some old copies of the Portland Argos and by them showed the same political issues that are before the people to-day were in commission then. We might have pointed out conveniently the thing then in vogue that have been superseded by other things and long since forgotten.

There is nothing that keeps a person so well in touch with things of the present as the familiarity of the past. The knowledge of what is really new and the things that remain the same from generation to generation is a wonderful help.

Postmaster Fred H. Atwood handed the editor a copy of Chase's Chronicle published by Solon Chase at Chase's Mills in 1875. The editorial page is full of thoughtful and philosophic arguments upon the economic conditions of the country and the editor (Mr. Chase) showed a familiarity with the underlying principles of government and society that is not surpassed by any of the writers that have come to the front since those days.

His comments upon the National Banking system were a little more applicable to the situation then than now, for there was more money made in the process of starting a bank then than now. He considered a national bank as a national curse. He wrote upon the subject of higher wages and also regarding strikes among the miners saying: "They have been too numerous the past year."

He commented upon the late James G. Blaine and considered him far short of a statesman. That at a time when Blaine was at the zenith of his reputation, at that time Mr. Chase was in a furious rebellion against the Republican party and put the knife ruthlessly into most of the policies of the party. After the quietus was put on the Greenback party Mr. Chase ceased his warfare upon the Republican party, and for many years has been a supporter of the policies he then pronounced inimical to public welfare.

The sheet was well patronized and much of the advertising was from Lewiston and Auburn. Among the ads, we noticed one from Mr. Atwood's father, the late G. B. Atwood who was then located in Auburn. Mr. Chase is now in advance years, but is in full possession of his faculties. He has so far left his old political principle that he has announced himself a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor on a purely temperance platform. He is for prohibition and in opposition to some prohibitionists is unequivocally in favor of enforcement.

CLUB HOUSE FOR CLAN CHISHOLM.

The Clan Chisholm has just opened a Club house at 122 Somerset St.

The Clan Chisholm is one of the most progressive of the social organizations in town, and this action is one calculated to be of great benefit to the members. A reading room and library has been furnished and a man and wife hired to care for the place. They live in the building as do several of the members.

The organization began its career with a donation from Hugh J. Chisholm of $500, and they have so conducted affairs that they now have over $800 in the bank.

The Scottish residents of Rumford are among our best and most appreciated citizens.

WHEREABOUTS NOT KNOWN.

Since John J. Bell lost his wife last spring he has been very much affected and his friends have noticed that he was not the same man as before. A short time before that affliction came upon him he opened an office for old debt collection business, and later became agent for the North Express Co.

He has been away from town for a week or ten days and it is learned that his whereabouts are not known to any of his friends. It is also true that there are many bills against him that are long over due. There is also a case pending against him for illegal transportation of liquor when he was agent of the Express Co.

The general impression is that he found his obligations so heavy that he left town with no intention of returning.

There are some of his creditors ready to proceed against him if he can be found. Bell was for a long time an employee of a National Bank in Berlin N. H. When he came to Rumford Falls he came from there and opened a grocery store in company with Joseph Garneau. They sold out and Mr. Bell went into the harness business. That not proving profitable was closed by his creditors. Mr. Bell was a deputy sheriff under McIntyre.

Fred Bell of Berlin was in town Monday looking after his interests in John's affairs. He does not know where John is and is anxious to have him return.

SHE DID NOT FEAR DEATH.

An old lady on her seventy-third birthday once said, "I do not mind getting old, and I do not fear death, but I live in constant dread of paralysis."

"For some time I have been wanting to tell you of the great good your wonderful Sloan's Liniment is doing here," writes Mr. James F. Abernethy, of Rutherford College, N. C. "In fact, all of your remedies are doing noble work, but your Liniment beats all. In my eight years of experience with medicine I find none to go ahead of it, having tried it in very many cases. I know of one young man, a brick mason, who suffered from a partial, yes, almost complete paralysis of one arm. I got him to use your Liniment, and now he can do as much work as ever, and he sings your praise every day. I get all to use it I possibly can and know there is great virtue in it. I have helped the sale of your noble remedies about here greatly and expect to cause many more to buy them, as I know they can't be beat."

A GREAT JUMPER AND FAST RUNNER.

One day last week Mr. Ira Parlin was driving a team, in which were two boxes of dynamite.

A young fellow who delights in getting rides on passing teams made free to jump aboard the wagon and comfortably seat himself on one of the packages.

Mr. Parlin stopped the team, and asked the lad if his parents were willing he should ride. The boy said it made no difference to them.

Mr. Parlin then asked if he was not afraid of being hurt. The lad announced his fearlessness in an emphatic manner.

"All right," said Mr. Parlin as he started the horse forward. "Those boxes contain dynamite."

The boy made a leap and landed sprawling in the mud, about a rod away. He scrambled onto his feet and ran as though he thought his life depended upon his getting to the top of nowhere in no time.

Crawford
Cooking-Ranges
What Our NEW TYPE of Range Means
 Maintaining the Crawford reputation for progress, we have constructed a new type of range which is better than even our heretofore best. In this new design the useless and awkward End Hearth is omitted. The ashes are disposed of by falling into a HOD far below the fire, which makes their removal easier and the grates to last longer. The Coal and Ash Hods are side by side, of the same size, and the Ash HOD being emptied can be returned full of coal. There is also more room on top of these ranges. The "Palace" is extra large size and the "Castle" smaller.
 All the famous Crawford features are present: Single Damper, Patented Grate, Cup-Joint Oven Flues, Asbestos-Backed Oven, Improved Oven Indicator. Send for our booklet.

Mr. H. E. Maddocks, representing the Waterville Sentinel, has been in town for the past few days in the interest of that paper and the Democratic party of which the Sentinel is the State organ. Mr. Maddocks tells us that he has been very successful in Bethel having landed several baker's dozens. Well, they will get their money's worth. The Sentinel is one of the brightest dailies in Maine. The only thing it is off on is its politics and of course we must not look for perfection in all things. Just apply the current rate of discount to its political department and you have a sound same sheet.

The man who got excited over the wrongs being done to the natives of a foreign land and embarked for its shores to aid in righting their wrongs and was oblivious of the greater wrongs being done to his own people, was of the type, we suspect, of the editor of a contemporary published at the Falls, who is so distressed over the wrongs (?) being done in a neighboring city and a doubtful infringement of the cigarette law at home, that he cannot find time to worry over the pan-cake condition of a great and righteous law right under his nose (knows also if you please.)

Its peculiar circumstance that the finishing of the Baptist church was foreshadowed in the Dreamer article last week which was all in type before the news came to hand, as printed in our news columns, that plans had been perfected for the completion of the edifice, and by outside aid. The writer of the Dreamer article had not heard a word of the new project when he prepared the article.

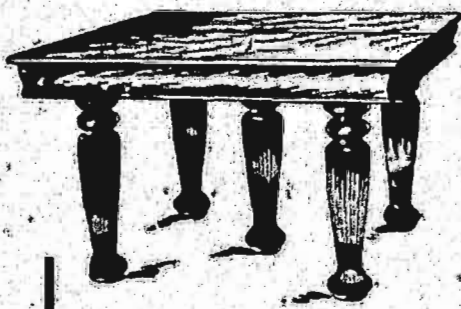

DANGER IN OYSTERS.

The wise person has his oysters cooked, knowing full well that danger lurks in the toothsome raw bivalves, unless there is full knowledge where they come from. It is interesting to see that health authorities are issuing warnings against oysters. The Massachusetts board of health has cautioned Boston against oysters and clams dug near that city, and Dr. Daniel Lewis, president of the metropolitan sewerage commission, and Mr. Daniel D. Jackson, bacteriologist of the New York water board, have both declared that many of the oysters supplied to the New York market come from neighboring waters that are literally nothing more than a strong solution of sewerage. "There isn't a square foot of the water of the harbor that isn't polluted by sewerage," says Dr. Lewis, "and I would no more think of eating an oyster or clam taken from these waters than I would so much deadly poison." It is slowly becoming recognized says the Springfield (Mass.) Republican, that shellfish taken from close about the harbor of a large city, under the present methods of disposing of sewerage, are admirably calculated to convey the germs of typhoid fever.

STAND UP AND TAKE NOTICE.

It is peculiar, but true that some men form habits of petty dishonesties, and go from one to another until they have a greater number of dishonest habits than honest ones.

INDEPENDENT COMMENTS

A Little Late, But Then.

Since the recent elections the politicians have been trying to detect the significance of the results as they may relate to the Presidential contest next year. From the methods of reasoning that have been applied in the past, the conclusion would be that all results were influenced by local issues that had no bearing upon national affairs; and that is the general conclusion.

The signs by which the trend of public sentiment has heretofore been discerned are no longer to be trusted. The fact that the Democracy did not hold its own in Kentucky, and barely in Maryland, and the Republicans could not regain their lost hold in Rhode Island and made great losses in New Jersey, does not show any change in the political opinions of the people, so far as principles go; but that one party control for a long period of years wears the electors and the tendency is to vote out the old and put in a new set of men. This done in the hope that a little less imposition will be practiced, than before; and is a notification to party managers that men of principle must be nominated for all offices, including the presidency.

The triumph of Tom L. Johnson in the mayoralty contest in Cleveland, Ohio, while not particularly a Democratic victory, was gained in opposition to Congressman Burton, a leading Republican, and who is said to have been urged to the contest by President Roosevelt. If this is true, it shows the President in the role of a politician seeking to block the Presidential prospect of a man who might prove dangerous to the President's party. The result of this election, combined with Johnson's previous achievements, brings him into prominence as a possible candidate for President, either as a Democrat or an independent.

The triumphant election of John B. Moran as District Attorney in Boston, (Suffolk County) is a notable achievement, although of no political significance in a party or league sense. The two elements that are comforting in the result is that the people discern now and then, the fact that a man is bigger than a party, and that the so called Irish vote in Boston can not always be delivered as contracted for. It is upon his ability to deliver that vote, that Mayor Fitzgerald has maintained his hold in that city. It may be that had

Moran not had a sympathetic name, his vote would not have been so large. But as Donovan was defeated for sheriff by a man with an Anglo Saxon name in the same county, the evidence is, that a sense of justice was the determining factor in the minds of the voters. It ought to serve as a warning to Fitzgerald that another religious and racial patriotism or prejudice is relied upon to win votes is quite likely to fail.

The only remaining thing of importance in the politics of that state. The Republican papers cannot tell the truth about it and not smirch many of their party leaders; and the Democratic papers are not democratic enough to do so.

The fact is that the crowd known as the Standard Oil clique were a little afraid that Gov. Guild, if re-elected, would become "infected" with the Roosevelt idea that the government was not run for their special benefit, and they planned to nominate Whitney, who is their man from top to toe, in the Democratic convention, and to elect him governor.

Notwithstanding the undisputed charges of corruption against Whitney, they would have succeeded if Hearst and Lawson had not arisen and prevented it. When it became well understood that there was no possibility of Whitney's being elected, the Standard Oil influence was thrown to Guild as the best thing they could do in view of the fact that Higgins was seen to have a possible chance if the Republican vote was divided. The Higgins vote shows that the Democrats cannot be sold in a body to any one. The fact that any considerable number of men (most of them honest) could be induced to cast a vote for such a man as Whitney, shows that the manipulators of the press can keep a great many people in ignorance of the exposures that are now and then made. That the Democratic papers of Maine should not have had the manliness to repudiate such a man and such a deal, casts a suspicion upon their professions of reform purposes, that may rest upon the party in the next campaign.

FOR SALE.

House and stable for sale or exchange for timber land, team or other property. Located, Smithville Rumford Falls.

N. CITIZEN Office. 11-14-11p.

Babies and children need prompt attention when suffering from coughs and colds. The best remedy for mothers to use is Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup. It tastes nearly as good as maple sugar, it contains no opiates, and it is laxative and drives the cold out of the system by gently moving the bowels. Sold by Bowers and Vallee.

WHAT ABOUT THIS?

It seems as though some of the stable keepers at Rumford Falls must have failed at some time to have a team on the spot at the time they agreed to or there is a peculiar drummer visiting these regions.

One day last week three livery teams appeared at a certain place on Congress street all ordered by one man. The peculiar part of it is that they all reached the place at the same time and the drummer was considerably embarrassed. It was evident that he expected to take the first team that came and let the others chase back to the places whence they came. He did not think they would all be here at once. He perhaps will be more considerate of the rights of the stable men hereafter.

EXPLAINED.

Mr. F. E. Rendall called and explained the reason why automobiles have so much difficulty in going over the Knox street hill as was described in the CITIZEN last week.

He says the rise is in reality, very sharp, but the distance being so short and the grade so even it does not look to be steep. In going onto the street from Franklin, machines are obliged to slow down and they strike the rise on low gear, and before the change can be made to high, the machine comes to a stand still. He says that a machine going from Rumford Ave. onto Knox street has any trouble, for then the speed is not slackened as it is when going around the sharp turn from Franklin street.

PREPARE MIXTURE
AS ADVISED.

Many Swear by It.

Many of our Citizens Speak well of the Home Prescription.

Mix the following by shaking well in a bottle, and take in teaspoonful doses after meals and at bedtime.

Fluid Extract Sennella, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. A local druggist is the authority for these simple, home-made ingredients can be obtained at nominal cost from our home druggists.

The mixture is said to cleanse and strengthen the clogged and inactive kidneys, overcoming Backache, Bladder weakness and urinary trouble of all kinds, if taken before the stage of Bright's disease.

Those who have tried this say it positively overcomes pain in the back, clears the urine of sediment and regulates even the worst forms of bladder weakness.

Every man or woman here who feels that the kidneys are not strong or acting in a healthy manner should mix this prescription at home and give it a trial, as it is said to do wonders for many persons.

The Scranton (Pa.) Times was first to print this remarkable prescription, in October, of 1906, since when all the leading newspapers of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburg and other cities have made many announcements of it to their readers.

SERVED BEAR MEAT DINNER.

W. W. Small has been serving regular course dinners at his Bridge street restaurant every Sunday for some time. Last Sunday he served a dinner somewhat unique for this section. The feature of it was the roast bear meat. Ezekiah Hutchins of Rumford shot and dressed a cub bear, and Mr. Small bought and served it Sunday.

The Editor was invited to the repast and together with many Rumford Falls persons, enjoyed one of the best dinners ever served in this town. The bear meat was very tender and fine of flavor. Mr. Small has in times past, had much experience in cooking bear meat and knew just how to prepare it. If bear meat was as easily obtainable as beef, we doubt not that beef would become of much less importance in the list of food stuffs.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Many Thanks.

Our second anniversary was celebrated, last week, in a manner to be most gratifying to us, and we most heartily hope it was pleasing to the throng of shoppers and friends who attended.

We feel that by your attendance and the expressions of interest and good wishes made in various ways that you have been satisfied with our past conduct as public servants, and that you appreciate the earnest desire on our part to perfect this store on lines of modern merchandising.

This appreciation of our successes and your patience with our shortcomings gives us new hope and strong inspirations to lead in the future as the ONE GREATEST DRY GOODS Establishment in this section.

During the coming year we are determined to improve. The same energy that created this business is behind it now working, not by guess as the old time rule among merchants, but on scientific lines that ensure fairness and economy to you as well as to ourselves.

WE THANK YOU

and that's all we feel like saying. Only it seems but a trifle; it seems so insufficient to express our appreciation of your friendship.

There is but one way to show it in full, and that is to give you greater values at lowest prices and best service in the future. That will repay you. That is what we shall strive for the coming year.

Very truly yours,

JUST HIS CASE.

A man who was famous for never paying his bills owed a considerable sum to his tailor. Sending bills had no effect upon the debtor, so the tailor decided to make a personal attempt to collect the amount. He called several times upon the delinquent, but was never able to catch him. Finally he succeeded, just as he was going out and accosted him with the modest inquiry:

"Will you pay me this bill, sir?" The man looked at it for a moment, and then said, innocently:

"Did you ever owe anybody anything?"

"No sir," replied the tailor.

"Then you can afford to wait," said the waggish debtor, and off he walked.

The tailor again made several attempts, and at last was successful in cornering the man a second time.

The debtor looked very solemn, and said: "Are you in debt to anyone?"

Not to be caught this time, the tailor replied:

"Yes, sir; I am sorry I am."

"And why don't you pay?"

"Because I haven't got the money," said the tailor with a significant look.

"That's just my case exactly, my dear sir," replied the debtor. "I am glad that you can appreciate my position. Good-morning."

A VISIT TO THE FROST FARM

IN MEXICO.

The editor accepted the invitation to visit the farm of Daniel G. Frost on the Roxbury road, last Saturday. Mrs.
Frost greeted us in the hospitable manner that belongs to the country people of Maine. The Frost Farm is situated about a mile from Mexico Corner and consists of about a hundred acres lying along the Swift River. It is good land and as well cultivated as any farm in the town. They bought and moved on to this place 18 years ago. It was formerly known as the John Kimball farm.

Mrs. Frost is the daughter of the late Joshua T. Hall who formerly owned the land that the best part of residential Rumford is built upon. The section on both sides of Franklin street was a part of the Hall property and was at the time it was sold to Mr. Pettengill the property of Mr. and Mrs. Frost.

The late Joshua T. Hall died three years ago at the age of 93 years. He was one of the old time settlers and was far past his prime when the boom struck the place, but lived to see the pasture land that he gave to his daughter, the most valuable land in the town for residential purposes.

Mrs. Frost has been a subscriber to the CITIZEN from the first issue and has frequently given evidence of her appreciation of its merits and says it is the paper she likes to read most of the twenty or more they subscribe for.
The day the editor called, Mr. Frost was away on business.

tunate hunters of this week and a very young one too, but last Monday morn-
ley, Cliffin started out alone to South Bog and ran across a deer the very first thing. He shot him instantly. It was a doe and weighed about 125 lbs.

Mrs. W. S. Crommett left Saturday for Massachusetts, where she will spend two or three weeks visiting in Boston, Haverhill and Lawrence.

L. F. Ishester has purchased the served several years as town clerk and of Masons. He was also a member of the Bryant's Pond Methodist church.

man, Carver and Pine Woods schools will mas closing then to avoid the winter storm.

terms. Some new cabinet maps for aids in Greek, Roman and English history have been placed in the High school room and one of the United States in the Grammar school room.

Miss Lillian Walker has gone to South
Paris for the winter.

Mrs. C. P. Saunders of Livermore has been visiting her sister Mrs. Verna Smith and father W. E. Adkins.

At the close of the Gilbertville school last Friday a very pleasing entertainment was given by the scholars.

Mr. Amos Childs one of Canton's oldest residents died at his home at Canton Point on Sunday at 12 o'clock at nearly 86 years of age. Mr. Childs had been in failing health for some time past. The funeral

An interesting and profitable meeting of ident, and performing her work in a very fine manner. State Guard, Mrs. Fannie

HANOVER.

A District Convention of the Pythian
Sisters was held here Monday, Nov. 14.
The temples comprising this district are Ellis Glen of Andover, Evergreen of Bryant's Pond and Mishemokwa of Hanover. Owing to the bad traveling there were only a very few Sisters from Andover present but there was a good delegation from Bryant's Pond and thirty-five members of our home Temple, beside one visitor from New Auburn temple. The Grand Chief, Mrs.
Elizabeth Hutchinson, of Gardiner was also present. The convention was called to order at 10 a. m. and the opening exercises and other routine business was gone through with until 12 o'clock when the meeting was adjourned to partake of a lunch consisting of sandwiches, cold meats, pickles, olives, cake, pie, coffee and fruit. At one p. m.
the Convention was again called to order and the initiatory ceremonies were exemplified by Evergreen and Mishemokwa temples, questions were answered by the Grand Chief and some interesting remarks were made by the latter, and by our District Deputy, Mrs. Harriet Stuart. All declared it to be a very interesting and profitable session.

Great indignation is felt throughout the whole town, and some adjoining towns, over a notice received last Wednesday stating that the stage between Hanover and Locke Mills was to be discontinued after Nov. 15. This will be a great inconvenience to everyone in town and indeed to all the patrons along the route, and especially so to the business men, who were in the habit of having their freight and express brought from and taken to the R. R. by the stage when there were no passengers. Petitions and remonstrances are already being circulated and it is hoped that the stage will soon be put on again if it should not be possible to prevent its being taken off.

Birchard Russell entertained about forty of his friends at Union Hall, Friday evening, Nov. 8th. Whist tables were placed across one side of the hall for the entertainment of the older guests while music was furnished by Etta and Elmer Howe for dancing for the younger ones. The party broke up about mid-night, each one declaring it to have been a very pleasant evening.

Instruments on what is known as the Farmer's Telephone Line have recently been installed in nearly every house in the upper part of the town,

Mr. Amos S. Purkis of Hartford spent last Sunday with his daughter, Mrs. J. C.
Parlin.

Noyes Cushman has finished work in the tannery.

The members of Ponemah Rebekah Lodge enjoyed a very pleasant evening at their last regular meeting, a large number being present. After the usual business meeting a fine entertainment was given. At the close of the Lodge refreshments of sandwiches, cake, doughnuts and coffee were served and games enjoyed until a late hour.

An invitation has been extended to Charity Lodge of Livermore Falls to meet with Ponemah Lodge on the evening of Nov. 23, when the visiting degree staff will confer the degree on several candidates. A pleasant evening is anticipated.

You can't be well if you have a weak unhealthy, tired out stomach. Neither can you feel good if by some little in-regularity in eating you have caused the stomach to get out of order. These little stomach troubles are signs of indigestion, which may and very often does turn into a bad case of dyspepsia.
Don't allow this to go on a single day without doing something to overcome it.

Take some good reliable and safe di-gestant like KODOL For Dyspepsia.
KODOL is the best remedy known today for heart burn, belching and all troubles arising from a disordered digestion. It is pleasant to take and at-

There is no such word as "neighbor" in the New York city dictionary. It may have been there once, but, if so, it was long ago used as a stake for the harsher fence of exclusive keep-your-distance-and-we-keep-our-distance-until-we-know-youness. It is told of a minister from the rural districts, an old-fashioned American, who came to New York to take charge of a parish, that he started out to make calls and was seized in the hall of what-in-civilization would have been his next-door neighbor. He was rushed away to Bellevue for examination as to his sanity. The verdict was "Insane. Had no letter of introduction and was not in the set."

Shortly after the first anniversary of his wedding Bob gave up his office with Randolph & Randolph and opened one for himself. He explained that he was giving up his commission business to devote all his time to personal trading. With the opening of his new office he again became the most active man on the floor. His trading was intermittent. For weeks he would not be seen at the Exchange or on "the Street." Then he would return and, after executing a series of brilliant trades, which were invariably successful, he would again disappear. He soon became known as the luckiest operator in Wall street, and the beginning of his every new deal was the signal for his fast-growing following to tag on.

From time to time I learned that Beulah Sands was making no real improvement, though in some details she had learned as a child learns. But there was no indication that she would ever regain her lost mind. Strange stories of Bob's doings began to seep into my office. For long periods he would disappear. Neither the nurses in charge of his wife, nor his brother, mother, and sisters, for whom he had purchased a mansion a few blocks above his own, would hear a word from him. Then he would return as suddenly as he had disappeared, and his wild eyes and haggard face would tell of a prolonged and desperate soul struggle. He drank often now, a habit he had never before indulged in.

For ten days before the second anniversary of his marriage he had been missing. On the morning of the anniversary he appeared at the Exchange, wild-eyed and dare-devil reckless. The market had been advancing for weeks and was at a high level. Tom Reinhart and his branch of the "System" were working out a new scheme of the public in Union and Northern Pacific. At the strike of the gong Bob took possession of the Union Pacific pole and in 30 minutes had precipitated a panic by his mercurial selling. Our house was heavily interested in the Pacific, although not in connection with Reinhart and his crowd. As soon as I got word that Bob was the cause of the slaughter, I rushed over to the Exchange and working my way into the crowd, I begged a word with him. He had broken both stocks over 50 points a share and the panic was raging through the room. He glared at me, but finally followed me out into the lobby. At first he would not heed my appeal, but finally he said, "Jim, it is too bad to let up. I had determined to rub this devilish institution off the map, but if it really is a case of injury to the house, it's my opportunity to do something for you who have done so much for me, so here goes." He threw himself into the Union Pacific crowd first giving an order to a group of his brokers, who jumped for a number of other poles. Almost instantly the panic was stayed and stocks were bounding upward two to five points at a leap. Bob continued buying Union Pacific and his brokers other stocks in unlimited quantities. Nothing like such a quick turn of the market had been seen before. His power to absorb stocks seemed to be boundless. It was estimated that personally, and through his brokers he bought over a million shares before he joined me and left the Exchange.

I looked at him in wonderment. "Bob, I cannot understand you," I said at last as we turned out of Broad street into Wall. "It seems as if you work with magic. Everything you touch turns to gold." He wheeled on me. "Yes, Jim you are right. Gold, heartless, soulless gold. But what is the dress good for? What is it good for to me? To-day I suppose I have made the biggest one-man killing in the history of 'the Street.' I must be an easy twenty-five millions richer in gold than I was this morning, and I had enough then to dam the East river and a good section of the North. But tell me, Jim, tell me, what can it buy in this world that I have not got? I had health and happiness, perfect health, pure happiness, when I did not have a thousand all told. Now I have fifty millions, and I know how to get fifty or five hundred and fifty more any time I care to take them, and I have only physical and mental hell. No beggar in all the world is so poor in happiness as I. Tell me, tell me, Jim, in the name of God, if there is one—already the game of gold is robbing me of my faith in God—where and two-edged dirk and the vulture rampant, and the motto, 'Who strikes in the back strikes often.'"

He left me with his laugh still ringing in my ears. I shuddered as I passed under the old black-and-gold sign my uncle and my father had nailed over the office entrance in an age now dead, an age when Wall street men talked of honor and gold, not gold and more gold.

In telling my wife of the day's happenings I could not refrain from giving vent to the feelings that consumed me. "Kate, Bob will surely do something awful one of these days. I can see no hope for him. He grows more and more the madman as he broods over his horrible situation. The whole thing seems incredible to me. 'Never was a human being in such perpetual living purgatory—unlimited, absolute power on the one hand, unfathomable, never-cool-down hell on the other.'"

"Jim, how does he do what he does? I cannot make out anything I have read or you have told me, how he creates those panics and makes all that money."

"No one has ever been able to figure it out," I answered. "I understand the stock business, but I cannot for the life of me see how he does it. He has none of the money powers in league with him, that's sure, for in the mood he has been in during the past two years it would be impossible for him to work with them, even if his salvation depended on it. The mention of any of the big 'System' men drives him to a fury. He has to-day made more money than any one man ever made in a day since the world began, and he had only commenced his work when he quit to please me. As I stand in the Exchange and watch him do it, it seems commonplace and simple. Afterward it is beyond my comprehension. At the gall he is going, the Rockefeller, Vanderbilt, and Gould fortunes combined will look tiny in comparison with the one he will have in a few years. It is beyond my power of figuring out, and it gives me a headache every time I try to see through it."

"Where Can I Find Liberty?"

THE SIMPLE THINGS.

Seemed that mother only cared
For the simple things of life;
Seemed that mother never shared
In the turmoil and the strife.
Simple things were her delight,
Closer to her heart, I guess;
Tears would fill her eyes at sight
Of a little baby's dress.

Mother never cared for show,
She was satisfied to dwell
In her humble way, and know
Those she loved were doing well.
Many keepsakes mother kept,
Always simple things she'd choose;
Many times has mother wept
O'er a little pair of shoes.

Little socks that once were worn,
And a little bow of blue;
There's a little nightie, torn,
Where a baby's foot went through.
These are all the simple things
She has treasured through the years;
And each one a memory brings
Of a baby's smiles and tears.

Only simple, simple things,
Little booties, soiled, 'tis true;
But to them she fondly clings,
Seems that mothers always do.
Closest to her heart they lie,
Sacred treasures none may share;
Only for a mother's eye,
Clothes the baby used to wear.

Men have come and gone, and by Monuments of chiseled stone,
Towering upward to the sky,
What they were on earth is known.
But a little baby leaves,
Only little simple things;
And to them a mother cleaves—
